

Report on NDLI Activity: Seminar on Metrics for Research Evaluation: Problems and Prospects on 27th June 2023

The 3rd local activity organized by National Digital Library of India (NDLI) RCCIIT Local Chapter was the seminar on 'Metrics for Research evaluation: Problems and Prospects' held at Institute campus on 27th June 2023. 30 members of the club joined in the said event. Librarian Debalina Mukherjee inaugurated the seminar highlighting the significance of the topics in the present day research aspect, and introduced the speaker, Prof. Bidyarthi Dutta, Faculty of Information Science, Vidyasagar University. Dr Dutta explained the concept of the citation and its impact on research and academic carrier. He showed that all the quality papers may not have good citation, whereas very ordinary papers can receive a great amount of citation. The session was truly interactive, and several new indexing concepts are exhibited including the false indexes as provided by few journals. The session was truly interactive, and faculties are aware about negative impact self-citation. A few glimpses are given below:
